List of padlock safety warnings based on the requirements of General Product Safety Regulation (EU) 2023/988 (GPSR): * Make sure the padlock is suitable for the secured item or area. Improper selection can result in easy forced entry. * Regularly check the technical condition of the padlock, especially the locking mechanisms. Damage can weaken its effect. * Protect your padlock from extreme weather conditions, such as frost, heat, and moisture, which can affect its durability and functionality. * If the padlock is used outdoors, maintain it regularly by lubricating the mechanisms to prevent corrosion and jamming. * Beware of sharp edges or protruding padlock elements that may pose a risk of injury. * Do not use the padlock in an environment containing chemicals that may damage its structure or mechanism. * Keep the padlock out of reach of children to prevent accidental ingestion of small items or use it in a dangerous way. * Secure your padlock keys in a safe place, away from unauthorized persons, to avoid unauthorized access. * For padlocks with combination lock, change the combination regularly for added security. *Please note that no padlock is indestructible. It is only a hindrance to a potential burglar.
